MARGINAL COLUMN By NISSIM REJWAN

Arab capitals about how it came to pass that Major-General Kassem has changed en he discovered that his when he discovered that his Communist enfourage kept him completely isolated from the goings-on in the country, supplied him with false information, and restricted his personal freedom even in matters pertaining to food, dress, and movement. When all this dawned on Kassem is not known, but it is believed that one specific incident which took place during the first days of June—on the eve of Id el-Adha constituted the crucial point of departure.

THEY relate, O Reader, that a girl by name of Su'ad Thabet, a student detained in the Baghdad Central police station, was assaulted repeatedly by a group of prison guards and men of the Popular Resistance Movement. When fellow-prisoners heard of the happenings, they managed to send word to the girl's family — which happened to be that of Sa'id Thabet described as having been a great Arab fighter and late head of the Iraq' Committee for the Defence of Palestine. When the family heard of the outrages, the girl's brother made for the Ministry of Defence to see Kassem and protest the foul deeds before him, but did not succeed in penetrating the high, forbidding and Communisteguarded walls of the imposing edifice.

THEREUPON the girl's I mother, herself the sister of one Ahmed Maryoud, and other fighter, went to Kassem's sister and implored her to save her daughter from these outrages. The good woman kept the mother at the house for a few days, until the General came to pay his aister one of his regular-visit, and the police for a few days, until the General came to pay his aister one of his regular-visit, fistening to the mother's story. Rassem was "greatly surprised and thought it was improbable." He immediate representatives should be set up to work took the weman to his headquarters at the Defence Ministry and summoned the girl and the police commander responsible for the station where she was detained. When he learned the story in all its uglines, he got "exceedingly mad": ordered the immediate release of the row body to work out their own body to work out their own body to work out their own views on a lit is uglines, he got "exceedingly mad": ordered the immediate release of the grader ready in the police commander the girl and the police commander pace treaty, and these must be put before the peace correctly in gave the officer a good slap on the face, and dismissed him from service on the spot.

When he asked how many-political detainees there were in all, he was told that their number did not exceed 500 but upon inspectexceed 500, but upon inspect-ing the records of the Fin-ance Ministry he found that 20,000 dinars were being spent daily on the prisoners, at the rate of 400 fils each, making the total number of detainese exactly 5,000! The General immediately ordered detainees exactly 5,000! The General immediately ordered the release of several thou-sand people, froze the so-called Investigating Commit-tees, and disraissed the Com-munist Director of Baghdad Police, Abdul Baqui Kadhem. It is also told that following on a personal tour of the prisons and himself released many of the detainees, including Jaber Omar, his first Minister of Education.

THIS is the story as it is It told in Beirut. Of course, it can signify nothing one way or another: if the situation in Baghdad is so chaotic and Kassem so isolated in his den at the Defence Ministry, it is quite unlikely that the discovery of this misdeed or that would lead to an improvement. The crisis is one of responsibility and the acceptance of responsibility for a country like Iraq? Only a madman or a fanatic. Kassem may be both, but the vacuum he has created with his revolution is so great and the forces he has unleashed so powerful that it will take Iraq a long. long time to reach any kind of stability. Kassem has promised that parliamentary elections and party activities will be allowed during the large days of January, 1960. Dr. Bols, in an interview recorded here with the Canadian Broadcasting Corporation, said that 14 years after the end of the war an occupation regime was outmoded.

Counter-Bid to USSR

GENEVA (Reuter). — Western officials have prepared new counter-proposals for solving the problem of Germany to put to the Soviet Foreign Minister, Mr. Gromyko, at today's (Monday's) session of the East-West conference here, usually reliable sources said.

According to reliable sources, the West will reject Mr. Gromyko's proposal for an all-German committee composed of an equal number of representatives from East and West Germany on a basis of parity, to work on expanding contacts; a peace treaty and reunification during the period of an interim Berlin settlement.

Instead, the West, according to unofficial reports, will counter-propose the conversion of the present Geneva conference into a semi-permanent body meeting at a lower level — that of deputy foreign ministers or ambassadors — to work on the political issue of German reunification during this period.

Bonn to Patch Up

"The two German states need their own body to work to ut their own views on a peace treaty, and these must be put before the peace conference just as much as the four-power proposals."

East German Premier Otto Grotewohl declared, "Together with the other countries of the Socialist camp, we will repel every attack on Poland and on the Oder-Neisse frontier line."

Nigerian Leader Lauds Israel Readiness to Aid New States

Jerusalem Post Political Reporter
Israel's readiness to assist other nations which are on the threshold of independence while struggling for her own independence was "indeed a Godly thing," said Chief F. S. Okotie Eboh, Finance Minister of the Pederal Government of Nigeria, in Jerusalem last night.

He was replying to the greetings of Finance Minister Levi Eshkol at a dinner given in his honour by Mr. Eshkol at the King David Hotel.

ON THE AIR

C A I R O (NANA). — A Dutch archaeologist, Prof. Adolf Klasens of Holland's State Museum at Leiden, believes scientific teams will still be digging in Egyptian soil 100 years from now. One of Britain's leading Egyptologists, Prof. John Cerny of Oxford University, calls Egypt's archaeological potentials "inexhaustible."

Some other prominent archaeologists who have worked in Egypt believe that somewhere — in ancient tombs and monuments — enough undiscovered documents are still hidden to give the Bible Treasures of Aswan

Treasures of Aswan

This year the Egyptian Antiquities Department is concerned mainly with photographing and recording some 30 archaeological treasures in the Nubian area of Upper Egypt before the waters of the proposed Aswan High Dam send them to a watery grave. The Egyptians have made an international appeal to UNESCO and to foreign archaeologists for technical and financial help.

The most important discoveries of 1959 were made by Dr. Klasens and his Dutch team about eight miles north of the great Giza pyramids. There they uncovered 200 ancient Egyptian tombs, most of them belonging to the First and Second Dynasties dating back 5,000 years.

Other important discoveries were made north of Cairo in the delta area near a village called Athribis. There a Polish archaeologist has made new findings on the site of early Greco-Roman settlements. Treasures of Aswan —The General Assembly which will open on September 15 is expected to be unanimous in will open on September 15 is expected to be unanimous in its choice of Dr. Victor A. Belaunde, of Peru, as President to succeed Dr. Charles Malik of Lebanon.

Dr. Belaunde is put forward by the Latin American delegations. The office is distributed on a geographical basis and it is now Latin American year.

and it is now Latin American year.

A provisional agenda for the forthcoming assembly of 63 items has been arranged, but so far there are no new items for discussion, except one proposed by Ireland on "prevention of the wider dissemination of nuclear weapons." Although this is the first time a separate item has been inscribed on this subject, the question was discussed last year during the debate on disarmament.

It is also learned that the Municipality's income from all sources during the first three months of the current fiscal year is running at 100 per cent of estimates. The loss incurred by the drop in entertainment tax due to the cinema strike has been more than offset by the payment of Arnona rates, which is 28 per cent above estimates.

'Israel Security Factor

LONDON (INA). — News of the sale of arms to West Germany had produced considerable doubt and heart-searching among Jews everywhere, says the report of the Eretz Israel Committee of the Board of Deputies of British Jews.

However, it was added, "the acceptance of the transaction as a necessary step in the furtherance of Israel's security by a majority of the Knesset, who are in the best position to know the relevant facts, must be taken into account in any assessment of the situation, particularly outside Israel."

The report also remarks on the radical change in world opinion towards Israel in the last year or so. Israel was increasingly regarded as a stabilizing factor in the Middle East, in the midst of unrest among her neighbours.

A 30-member public combours.

"While the various Arab states continue publicly and outwardly to vie with one another in their denunciation of Israel and their refusal to recognize her existence, reports from various sources, however, appear to indicate that the realities of the situation are penetrating to important sections in the Arab countries," it was stated.

American Zionist C'tee Gets New Name WASHINGTON (INA).— The name of the American Zionist Committee for Public Affairs nas been changed to the American-Israel Pu blic Affairs Committee by decision of its Executive Board, Rabbi Philip S. Bernstein of Rochester, N.Y., chairman of the Organization, has announced.

The change was made to reflect the fact that the Committee is supported by all elements of the American Jewish Community rather than Zionists alone. The Committee will continue to conduct public action in Washington with a view to strengthening the friendship between the U.S. and Israel, and to counteract efforts of the Arab lobby to alienate American friends of Israel.

Police Coax Boy Back From No-Man's-Land

French Group To Invest in Israel

POST Reconomic Reporter

A French company for investment in Israel is to be set up within a few weeks.

Mr. M. Tsour, the Director-General of the Ministry of Commerce and Industry, is scheduled to leave for Paris shortly and will contact various financial groups which have expressed willingness to participate in such an investment scheme.

The French company will be on the lines of a similar British firm, now being set up, with a paid-up capital of £250,000.

CABINET

The Cabinet decided to refer to the Ministerial Economic Committee the Shvut Amma abura question, which has been on the Cabinet agenda for several months already. About 1,000 of the 2,500 families in Shvut Am, near Bet Lid, have refused to move to bousing projects in other areas because they work in the Natanya region. The Minister of Labour, Mr. M. Namir, who raised the question at the Cabinet meeting, is willing to supply housing in a settlement near the ma-abara. On the other hand the Minister of the Interior, Mr. I. Bar-Yehuda, is opposed to the establishment of a new settlement in the region since such a project is not provided for in the general town-planning scheme for the area.

In a letter addressed to all Ministers, the Minister of Defence has announced the resignation of Mr. Shimon Peres from the post of Director General of the Defence Ministry. The resignation, which was submitted on June 22, is to go into effect on July 22. Mr. Asher Ben-Nathan is to be Acting Director-General of the Ministry. The resignation communique soid:

population of more than 170m., with its vast industry with the same troat and its geographical cohesion, has apparently come to stay, Britain and the other Western European countries which are today on the outside feel impelled to break in. Already the flow of exports of the would-be "little free-traders" towards the Common Market is seriously jeopardized, and this is a situation which hard-headed businessmen cannot accept. The Stockholm conference carries an implied threat of reprisals against the Common Market. But as a trade war would be equally disastrous to all concerned, it may be hoped if not yet assumed, that common sense will prevail. It would seem that the intention is to seek a compromise between the two rival associations through the good offices of the Organization for European Economic Cooperation.

A POPULAR cafe on the A Central Carmel, called "Ron" (Hebrew for "joy") has become the site of an acrimonious dispute between its owners and the tenants of the flats above. To make room for more guests, the owners are extending the cafe premises around the corner, along the second front of the building. The ten tenants are dismayed at the prospect of having cafe moise underneath the second of their two balconies. They reacted fast by hanging up washing on an improvised clothes line in full view of the patrons and treating them to a noisy programme of music from Damascus, which competes well enough with the hit tunes coming from the cafe itself. From now on, it will just be a matter of who has stronger nerves.
